

Pastoral care and counseling

Just talk for a while...

About new experiences or old stories, about God and the world, about difficult and easy things – in short, about whatever is on your mind. With us, you'll find time and space for your concerns.

Counseling for International Students

Those who come from abroad to study in Germany sometimes encounter special challenges.

While we cannot solve all of them, we offer counseling and support for personal and financial difficulties.

ESG - what does it mean?

The Protestant Student Communities (ESGs) are diverse and open communities of students at universities across the country.

They provide a space for young people between school and career to live out their faith, exchange ideas and find their path together in their studies and in life. The ESG promotes dialogue, connection, and critical thinking and stands for tolerance and openness toward different worldviews. Issues such as gender, climate protection and human rights are important topics for us.

KONTAKT

A warm welcome to the Protestant Student Community in Oldenburg:
open - diverse - together

The Protestant Student Community – ESG Oldenburg – is a meeting place for all students in Oldenburg.

We invite you to connect and engage in conversations about the questions of our time, to reflect on God and the world, to make music, to celebrate festivals and worship services and to share meals and time together.

You are welcome - just as you are!
